MRS. LEONARD JOLL

As we look back on our years in Lewis High School it is natural that we think of someone whose unfailing help and sincere efforts have made a successful graduation possible for us. We have in mind, when we say this, Mrs. Leonard Joll, our class advisor during all of our time at Lewis. Her job was a long and tedious one, full of worries and disappointments, and the way in which she handled all our greater social and financial problems was, indeed, remarkable. She retained great patience with us at all times and could always be counted on to settle minor difficulties correctly and speedily. When the class began to fall down in its plans, Mrs. Joll's hard working served as a constant reminder to us of the job which lay ahead of us, and her high ambition and understanding provided the necessary inspiration to aid our progress. She believed, at all times, that each member of the Senior Class had an equal vote in each class activity and she continually stressed the importance of cooperation among the class. It would be impossible to list all the ways in which she had aided us, in such a small article as this, so to a swell teacher and a grand woman, we can only say "Thanks."

ESTHER TEWS

Born in Southington, Conn., May 25, 1927

Died June 19, 1945

When God leaned down and took your hand,
You were only going home, you said;
But still we could not understand
Just where those homeward steps had led;
'Til after tears had washed away
The bitter sorrow of that day.

Sad sweetness comes when we recall
Your steady friendship, love, and joy,
The bit of time, the smile for all;
Reminding us as Christ's envoy
To live a life so pure and true
We may again be pals with you.

JERRY HOTCHKISS

Class History

At eight o'clock on September 9, 1942, our plane took off on its flight——— destination——— Graduation; a little town which is a favorite resort for the youth of the nation. Every boy and girl wishes to pass through this town, and like all others, we did too.

It was a gorgeous day and the sun shone in all its splendor. As our plane lifted its wheels from the ground and soared skyward, our hearts leaped into our mouths, for we knew we were on an important flight, and it was up to us whether we reached "Graduation" or not. The weather reports were favorable, but who could foretell what might come up in the future?

Our pilot was Alan Edwards, the co-pilot, Jerry Hotchkiss; navigator, Ruth Ann McNerney; radio-man, Arline Phelan. With this crew to guide us, we entered our first lap of this long journey. "Air activities" were few, and since we were still inexperienced, we were just as glad. Naturally, since we were just beginners in the "skyways" — we hardly had the right-away. As we glanced out the windows of our plane, we saw the "Senior" pass us — just wait till our plane could carry that caption. We, of course, were called "Freshmen." We often got off the "beam" but we flew along and trusted in our crew. Our first stop was "Sophomore" where we had a "stop-over" of ten months. As we departed from the airport, we were told to be sure to be at the base at eight o'clock, September 20, 1943 when we would begin the second lap of our journey.

We met on the appointed date and as we once more took our seats on the plane, which now was christened "Sophomore" the title we had earned, because we had reached our first stop without mishap, we became acquainted with our new crew. Pilot, Jimmy Wallace; co-pilot, Bill Nardi; navigator, Agnes Zakrewski; and radio-man, Dick Marinelli. The weather reports were favorable, and we began to feel that there would be smooth flying from now on. There were numerous "air activities" this time, but since we were on the second lap of our flight, we handled the situation very well and even managed to increase our supplies. This section of the journey went along very smoothly, and in no time we were fastening our safety belts in preparation of a "4-point" landing at "Junior-town." As we parted at the airport to have some fun during our "stop-over" period, we looked at each other with a vague glimpse of astonishment. Our journey would be over in no time — for here we were, watching our plane being shoved into the hangar and the streamline model which belonged in the high-brackets of the skyways and preserved the right-of-way, was being tested and the name "Junior" painted upon its fuselage.

"Junior" was a beautiful plane and our feeling of being in the "upper-brackets" began to ease into our senses. Yes, we had a new crew, too. Vito Riccio replaced Jimmy Wallace as pilot; William Height replaced Bill Nardi as co-pilot; Jean Cockayne replaced Agnes Zakrewski as navigator, and Ralph Riccio replaced Dick Marinelli as radio-man. Soaring through the air, we took great pleasure in looking down at the planes flying below bearing the names of "Freshman" and "Sophomore." Our hearts were light as we winged our way to our last stop before reaching our destination. It can be said that this lap of our journey was the most enjoyable. There was hardly a minute that we weren't participating in "air shows" and the plane "Junior" was well-publicized and well-known throughout the Skyway.

L.H.S. CHRONICLE

We reached our last stop before our destination "Graduation" and that was "Senior." At our "stop-over" at Senior, we looked over our logbook for the past journey and found its pages full of reports for our executive at the home office, Mrs. Joll. At this point of our journey, Mrs. Joll, who had been our steadying guide and a source of help throughout this trip, left us and Miss Fagan replaced her as our executive officer.

On September 5, 1945, we started our last and most important trip — our crew was as follows: Pilot, Dick Wood; co-pilot, Bill Nardi; navigator, Jean Cockayne; radio-man, Ralph Riccio. We were all confident we would reach "Graduation" with this able-bodied crew to "man our plane." We were at last the proud possessors of the plane that bore the caption "Senior", and we flew along on wings and clouds as light as air. The "Senior" was filled with noise and fun-making — yet there were times when we all set about doing our work. This lap of our journey was filled with innumerable "air activities" and the most important of them all was the night we landed at "Copper Kettle" and held a banquet there—one last night altogether before separating at "Graduation." Once more we took to the air, when before we knew it, the flash came to "fasten all safety belts for landing" and the wheels of our beloved ship softly touched the ground — a perfect landing at "Graduation." We all rushed forward to congratulate the crew that had guided us through this last lap of our trip. We had at long last reached our destination, safe and sound, and were ready now to venture into the country on the outskirts of protective "Graduation" known to all as "The World" and our hearts beat a little faster.

But before we passed the gates of "Graduation", we lingered in the town and reminisced — starting from the time our plane took off at "Freshman" and ending at "Graduation." It dawned on us that we had taken our trip during the most eventful era this "world" had ever known. During our journey we had not been oblivious of the World War — we had felt some of the "concussions." Indeed, we did. We recalled the day our great President died; it was a day for serious thought, and our "plane" was quiet throughout. Then, too, the day so-called "V-E Day" was a day for rejoicing for all. There were many more — "D-Day", and "V-J Day." We on board ship, were not idle all this time either. We had instructors aboard who taught us the fundamentals in Red Cross Work, and First Aid; then, too, there was a time when air raids were possible and we were shown what to do in case of an air raid. These Air Raid Drills were unexpected and frequent. And yet, we as well as the rest, steered our way through the fog and mist, and landed safely. Even though our trip was full of these activities, we marveled at the swiftness and record-time in which we made our journey. For it seemed like only yesterday that we set forth on board the "Freshman" beginning our flight.

So we bid a sad farewell to our co-passengers and passed out of the gates of "Graduation" into the gates of "The World."

Class Poem

LEAVING LEWIS

The years have gone so quickly by,
Our time is now up, it seems:
So the past and its happy memories,
We will know, but only as dreams.

We find it awfully hard to think
Of leaving Lewis High
And bidding farewell to all the fun
Which we knew in days gone by.

We'll miss our classmates one and all,
Our buddies, the pals we knew,
And to leave our alma mater
Is something hard to do.

We'll miss that school upon the hill,
The teachers we learned to know,
The fun we had at football games:
Gee, how we hate to go!!!

We'll miss those dances, those hot dog sales,
The tardy bell at eight,
The Senior Prom, and the many things
Which we learned to appreciate.

We'll even miss those books we read,
The lunch time gossip, too,
Those squeaky boards in the hallway,
And the little things we knew.

We'll miss our study hall comrades,
Those tough exams we had,
The dread of those English classes,
Which really weren't so bad.

We'll miss our buddies, all of them,
The baseball games in the spring,
The fun that we had in Glee Club,
And the songs we used to sing.

We'll miss those colors we knew so well,
Our team mates with whom we played,
We'll miss those happy faces,
And the friendships which we made.

This may sound rather strange to you,
And maybe hard to believe,
But it means a lot to we Seniors
Now that we have to leave.

JIMMY WALLACE

L.H.S. CHRONICLE

Class Will

We, the graduating class of 1946, hereby state the following is a transcript of our last will and testament witnessed and approved by said class in memory of those we leave behind.

We, the above, being of sound mind and good memory bequeath to —

Mr. Strong — This barometer to foretell future blizzards.

Mr. Phelan — This gas mask so that you will not have to retreat to the supply room when future Chemistry students prepare Chlorine Gas.

Miss Beach — This baseball bat to help keep the noise at a minimum during future Glee Club Periods.

Miss Bedford — These erasers to replace the ones that somehow seem to disappear from your room.

Miss Collins — This business register to keep your Reader's Digest records straight.

Mr. D'Angelo — This crow bar to keep your study halls quiet.

Miss De Gere — This round-trip ticket to Gay Paris.

Miss Fagan — This pair of NYLONS. We know how much you want them.

Mrs. Ferrucci — This booklet on the latest methods of canning.

Mr. Fontana — This private telephone so you will not have to run down to the office every five minutes.

Miss Hannifin — This season ticket to the best plays produced during 1947.

Mrs. Joll — This scroll with all the senior names on it. It will serve as a warning to you if you ever long to teach again.

Mr. Joyal — This MODERN JOKE BOOK.

Miss Marcon — This brush to keep your clothes free from chalk-dust.

Mr. McSorley — This sound proof room so that other classes may rest in peace.

Mr. Mucci — This "jeep" to remind you of former days.

L.H.S. CHRONICLE

Miss O'Day — This mouse trap to catch some of the ones who make their home in your room.

Mrs. Prior — This pass so that you will always be able to ride on the Mount Vernon bus.

Mr. Rathbun — This detective to eliminate future robberies in Mechanical Drawing classes.

Mrs. Rectenwald — This modern cook book.

Miss Shorey — This woodsman's axe so that you will be able to always have a supply of wood on hand in that wilderness home of yours.

Mr. Small — This can of Simonize to keep your car as shiny as always.

Mr. Stowe — This compass in order that you will be able to find your way around the many rooms of your home.

Miss Bristol — This Twenty-five year pin for service in L. H. S.

Miss Shirley Johnson — This megaphone so that you will always be heard at the Lewis Games.

Mrs. Moore — This bucket of thanks for the many troubles that you kept us out of.

Mr. Stuart — This pipe to replace the one so well used during the past years.

Class of '47 — This club to continue bullying the underclassmen.

Class of '48 — This little sum of money. We know that it will come in handy around June 1948.

Class of '49 — Vitamin pills for the boys! Dehydrating tablets for girls!

Class of '50 — The hope that you will graduate from the new High School.

GIRLS

BETTY BOCK

We give you this rowboat and hope it will bring you home without getting wet those rainy nights when Spring Street temporarily becomes a river.

ANN BRACCIOFORTE

We give this sailor to you to offer you competition for Stanley.

SHIRLEY BURKHARDT

Because you liked history well enough to take it two years, we present you with this new "History of World War II."

JULIA CARBONE

Because of your interest in designing, we give you this ticket to a fashion show to be held soon in Paris.

ELSA CARLBERT

This ticket to Hollywood we leave to you, where you will play with one of the big name bands — best of luck.

KATHERINE CASNER

These vitamin pills will probably help to keep you as peppy and full of vim as you have been in your four years at Lewis.

VIRGINIA CELELLO

To "Vee" whose been late so many times we present her with this Packard — we hope that it will help to make it to work on time in the near future.

JEAN COCKAYNE

An authentic driver's license is just what you need. We are quite sure the one you are using is a Grant's special.

MAGDALENE COOK

To Maggie this yacht we give with pride — when your sailors come home, give them a ride.

DOROTHY DASHUKEWICH

Because we never heard much from you, wear this plaid hair ribbon so that we can "hear" you coming.

ELIZABETH DEGUZIS

We leave you this bottle of "Blondex" shampoo, and hope it will help in keeping your hair light and lovely.

LORETTA DIGHELLO

We leave you this mascot to guard your secret club. (G.T.C.)

DOLORES GALIETTE

Since you always seemed to be dressed so "sporty" we present you with this fashion book so that you may keep up with the latest modes.

MARION GERNAT

This bottle of milk we leave you so you may continue to have such rosy cheeks and out door look.

CATHERINE GIAGOS

As your most wonderful achievement was playing the piano we leave with you this book on "Best works of Bach, Beethoven" and hoping it will launch you on a successful teaching career in the new high school.

BLANCHE GLIDDEN

We hear you are quite a gal when it comes to roller skating, that we'd like you to have these roller skates worn by a famous roller skater.

L.H.S. CHRONICLE

FANNY GOURINSKI

This megaphone we leave with you is to make yourself heard in class and at all future Lewis games.

MATILDA GREENE

We give you this heart to use in your future love affairs — in case you should run out of them.

SHIRLEY GRIFFIN

To break the monotony of living in the country, we present you with this ticket to come to the city.

SHIRLEY HARTFORD

We know you love those trips with the Mariners a great deal, therefore we present you with this roadmap knowing it will help.

ARLEEN HOTCHKISS

This piece of lumber we leave with you — hoping that you and "Skip" may have some use for it soon.

GERALDINE HOTCHKISS

This scooter will probably remind you of the times you could have used a vehicle performing your duties for the "Emblem."

NORMA HUTCHINSON

We leave you this plot of Lewis ground which you can use as a landing field for your many planes.

GLORIA JOHNSON

In case you should ever get lost in traveling afar — this guide book we present you may come in handy.

RITA KANE

You never seemed to have much time for studying "Caesar" — here's the latest news on him; we bought it for a dime.

BERNICE KOWALESKI

Because you were so active in the socials at the Club El-Teen — we leave you this membership card to the Club El-Teens of America.

DOROTHY KUCHTA

We give you this medal for your faithful work in helping to mimeograph the Emblem.

MARIE LANDRETTE

We have this strong flashlight for a little night-owl, in order that she may see well when she goes out at night.

BETTY LA PORTE

This comb we present to you so your long tresses may continue to look so neat.

CLAIRE MACKENZIE

We present you with this pair of wings, because you are so gentle and kind.

GLADYS MAIGARIE

It seems that your interest in the Navy has kept you quite busy in your letter writing — we present you with this mailman to insure prompt service.

KATHRYN MAIGARIE

When you walk through the halls of Lewis all the boys just sigh — this flashy ring we leave with you, may help in keeping them away.

DOROTHY MANN

We present you with this electric light bulb to remind you of a certain Senior boy. Do we (Dewey) make ourselves clear?

BARBARA MARTIN

You always kept your bangs so neat and trim — we present you with these scissors to keep them that way.

L.H.S. CHRONICLE

RUTH McNERNEY

To Mac we give this big Mack Truck to bring little "Mac" and "Buzz" to school.

JEANNIE MASKAITIS

To you we present this mirror so that you may get as much pleasure from your neatness as others do.

VIVIAN MILLER

This box of starch we know will come in handy in keeping those nurses' uniforms looking dandy.

IRENE MONGILLO

Knowing the future cheerleaders will want backing from people with school spirit like yours, we present you with this ticket to all Lewis games — bring your friends along.

ETHEL MOORE

During the war you were forced to wear rayons but now we think you should have these nylons.

ROSELYN PERILLO

Totsie, our gay little jitterbug always seemed to be sliding — we hope these dancing shoes (for jitterbugs only) will help you out at future dances.

ARLINE PHELAN

You have been admired so much because of your pretty long lashes that we'd like you to keep them that way — we hope this kurlash will help.

ANN URILLO

Because you are so lacking in height, we give you this can of Baking Powder and hope it will help to "raise" you.

FAITH VIROVOY

We present you with this chemist set so you may blow up some more labs.

CATHY WAGENBRENNER

You played your role so well in the Senior Play that you have now been assigned the leading part in Broadway's new show "Born Yesterday."

MARGE WALSH

Your collection of bracelets seems to be endless — we'd like to add on to it by giving you this one.

JACQUELINE WILSON

We present you with this key to all the theaters of the world.

AGNES ZAKREWSKI

We leave you this outfit of artists' paints and brushes to help you start your job painting photographs at the Loring Studio.

BOYS

EDWARD ABETZ

This contract which we present to you will last a lifetime with the New York Yankees.

IRVING BRYANT

Because you seem quiet, we present you with this mouse.

ERNEST BURKHARDT

We give you this car to remind you of the many miles you drove for Height's Garage.

ANTHONY COPPOLA

Because silence is with you, we give you this "Joke Book."

L.H.S. CHRONICLE

PASCO D'AUNNO

To a lad with a fine brain as yours we give this scholarship (Yale).

JOHN DEWEY

To you we give this book, "How to Make Public Speeches."

JOHN FLYNN

For your music which is so delightful we give you this medal.

ANDREW FOLCIK

We give you this package of dates from
New Britain in case you haven't enough.

We present you with this contract to model men's clothes, because you dress so well.

WILLIAM HEIGHT

We give you these oats to aid you in caring for your horses, which you are so fond of.

THEODORE JOHNSON

We give to you these drums in case the ones you have wear out.

FRANK KELTONIC

We present to you these pencils to help you out with your mechanical drawing in the future.

JAMES KENNEDY

To James we give this booklet on "How to Grow" in two easy lessons.

EDWARD KORDYS

We give you this little "token" in case you forget your bus tickets.

WILLIAM KRITZ

To you we give this comb to keep your hair ever so neat.

EDWARD KUSEK

As you are a football man, we give you this little football to remind you of your football days at Lewis High.

this bottle of Brilliantine to keep it forever aglow.

WILLIAM LEACH

We have for you a little mop to help you swab decks in your future years in the Navy.

RICHARD MARINELLI

We present to you this book on farming, though perhaps you know more than this book gives.

DOMENIC MAURO

Here is a little man to keep you company when you are alone.

NICHOLAS MONGILLO

Here is this little whistle to make you be heard.

CARMEN MONTE

Because we seldom see you at home we give you this map of Connecticut.

WILLIAM NARDI

Because you dance so well, we present you with this "Arthur Murray" book on dancing.

ROBERT NOBLE

This medal to remind you of your splendid part in the Senior Play. (Herby)

L.H.S. CHRONICLE

ROBERT REISCH

To a bright fellow and a shining student we present this light bulb.

THE SOUTHTON NEWS

JUNE 17, 1956

WEATHER — CLEAR

Yankees Win!

Edward Abetz, pitcher for the New Yankees, led his team to victory over the Red Sox yesterday. He pitched a no hit, no run game.

Miss Elizabeth Bock has accepted the position of instructor in English in the Philippines. Miss Bock was graduated from Lewis High School, where she majored in English.

Opening of Anne's Beauty Shoppe

The opening of Miss Ann Braccioforte's Beauty Shoppe will take place a week from today. Come one, come all, and see the many hairdos, which Ann has up her sleeve. P.S. Watch out for those young men, who come in for manicures and permanent waves.

Flag Pole Record Broken

Irving Bryant, local flag pole sitter, has broken the world's record for continuous sitting. He passed his 49th day yesterday.

Ernest Burkhardt, our quiet classmate, is riding the western plains for the Army Cavalry. He was recently promoted to a Major. Good luck.

Miss Burkhardt to Give Lecture

Miss Shirley Burkhardt will address the high school girls, on Friday. The subject is to be "How to Keep That School Girl Complexion."

Miss Julia Carbon has recently been chosen "Miss America." We know she will succeed for they say "Gentlemen Prefer Brunettes."

Cornet Lessons

Former Lewis High student, Miss Elsa Carlbert, will give cornet lessons, beginning Friday, June 22, 1956, at two o'clock. They will be held in the Southington High School Auditorium.

Miss Katherine Casner has attained the speed of 200 words per minute in a recent Gregg Shorthand Speed Test. She has accepted the position as Secretary to Congress. Congratulations.

Miss Virginia Celello has been elected captain of the Yale Feminine Basketball team. We are sure the team will be successful because of her basketball experience on the YMCA floor.

Hartford, Conn.
June, 1956.

Ten years ago Miss Jean Cockayne stated that she wanted to become a nurse. We all knew that she would be successful, but she now has us baffled. Besides becoming a successful nurse at Hartford Hospital she is now taking on private cases.

Miss Magdalene Cook is head librarian at the Yale Library. She is of great assistance to the Yale boys. Be careful, Cooky, don't let the boys bother you, or interfere with your work.

Anthony Coppola has just completed his book on Past History; and is beginning on Future History. Good luck!

L.H.S. CHRONICLE

Miss Dorothy Dashukevich has undertaken the Presidency of the Phony Microphone Company. After being so quiet in high school, this will be quite a change. We know she is going to be successful and we wish her the best of luck.

Pasco D'Aunno has been made Professor of History at Boston University. We hope that he will be as generous in giving his A's, as he was in receiving them.

Resigns Position Here To Go to Chicago

Miss Elizabeth DeGuzis is now working at the "Swanky Dress Shoppe." She gained her experience during her high school days at Grant's.

John Dewey is running the Dewey Funeral Home in Southington. We hope we will not have to send too many dollars to you.

Paris, France.

Miss Loretta Dighello of Southington, Conn., U. S. A. has just completed a laboratory test of her own brand of wave set, which will guarantee to give any woman (or man if interested) waves as nice as her own.

Solid Six

John (Jack) Flynn and his "Solid Six" will be the main attraction at the Senior Ball to be held this month.

FLASH!

Andrew Folcik has just returned to the Southington Airport, after a trip around the world in a jet-propelled plane.

Announcement

John Fontana announces the opening of an ice company, featuring ice that is guaranteed not to melt. Good luck, Jack. If you want to know the chemical reaction, ask Mr. Phelan.

Miss Dolores Galiette has recently been selected "Miss Outdoor Girl." Miss Galiette has always been interested in sports.

Miss Marion Gernat will take over her father's duties while he is vacationing in Florida. She is most efficient, and her father need not spend any time worrying.

Thessalonike, Greece.

Miss Catherine Giagios is expected at Thessalonike, Greece sometime this week. She is going as correspondent for the Southington News.

Blanche Glidden has recently opened the Bee-Gee Roller Skating Rink. We are sure the townspeople will enjoy many good times here.

Fanny Gourinski has accepted a position as secretary and assistant teacher to Coach Joseph Fontana. She spends most of her time answering the telephone. Fanny, remember the time when you were just waiting for a telephone call to take Coach out of class? Well, have some pity on his poor students.

The principal of the Southington High has announced the appointment of Miss Matilda Greene to the Home Economic Department. From the wardrobe, which she made at Lewis High, we know she is capable of teaching this. Congratulations!

Elected State President of American Legion Ladies' Auxiliary

Miss Shirley Griffin has been elected State President of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the American Legion. She has been most active in the Southington Auxiliary for the past number of years.

June 17, 1956,
Washington, D.C.

Vinton Grooman was elected to the U. S. Senate. It is said the main instrument in his election was the women's vote.

L.H.S. CHRONICLE

Becomes Secretary to Congressman

Miss Shirley Hartford is the youngest secretary ever to attain this position. Her efficiency and ability have put her in the foremost rank. She graduated from Lewis High School in 1946.

Local Man Appointed Head of the Forest Fire Fighters

William Height has been appointed head of the Forest Fire Fighters at Tollgate, Oregon. Best of luck, Bill.

Miss Arleen Hotchkiss is happily married, and living in Bristol. She has just come back from her second honeymoon which she spent at Pasadena, California.

Miss Geraldine Hotchkiss taught typing and shorthand, until she was married. She is now teaching baby "Blue Eyes" to walk.

After completing a pre-flight course at the Los Angeles Airport, Miss Norma Hutchinson is setting out on a non-stop flight around the world. Loads of luck, Norma.

Miss Gloria Johnson has become secretary to the Governor of Connecticut. Congratulations! Keep up the good work.

Theodore Johnson has been made coach of Cornell University. He is teaching his team the best way to come out of a scrimmage, standing up, and all in one piece.

Restville, Vt.

Miss Rita Kane hadn't quite decided what she wanted to do after graduation. She said she was going to take it easy, and she is. Best of luck, Rita; don't work too hard.

SPECIAL!

Frank Keltonic is a research chemist on Mars. He is trying hard to rearrange the solar system.

James Kennedy is scheduled to give a lecture "Why be tall, when you can be like me," to the student body of the Southington High School.

Edward Kordys has such a line, that he is now a great salesman, selling "balony" to the natives of New Guinea at a huge profit.

Washington, D.C.

Miss Bernice Kowaleski has been bestowed with the honor of re-decorating the White House. Knowing Bernice's excellent taste, we are assured that the President and First Lady will be pleased.

Have you read the new book "Popularity with Women" by William Kritiz? Kritzie, we didn't know you had it in you.

The new train, "The Southington Limited," was christened yesterday. It had its first run today with Edward Kusek, conductor. He is continuing his 80-yard dashes by running up and down the aisles punching tickets.

The Supervisor of the Southington Telephone Office was announced last week. Miss Dorothy Kuchta has been given this position. Congratulations, Dot.

Day Nursery — Open 8 A. M. to 6 P. M. Children from ten months to ten years. Call Miss Marie Landrette for details.

Miss Elizabeth La Porte, who has the longest hair in the world, is the main attraction at the Casanova Club. From all reports the club has become very successful, due to Miss La Porte's arrival from Connecticut.

We find that Robert Leach, Milldale's leading farmer is now devoting most of his time to developing self-popping pop "CORN."

L.H.S. CHRONICLE

William Leach, graduated from Annapolis, Md. today with the rank of Ensign. He feels proud of his new uniform after wearing bell-bottoms for ten years.

Miss Claire Mackenzie has been named Head Supervisor of the Operating Room at Bellevue Hospital in New York City. Claire is well-known for her good work.

The Misses Kay and Gladys Maigarie, famed Powers models, are visiting their parents in Southington, before departing for Hollywood, where they are to appear in pictures.

Uliassutai, China.

Miss Dorothy Mann is a missionary in China. She is doing good work helping to rebuild China.

Richard Marinelli went further in the field of track (your remember he had enough practice running from room to room during his good old days at Lewis High) being in the 2015 Olympics held at the Southington High School Track Field yesterday.

New York, New York.

Wanted — Saleswoman, part or full time in R. H. Macy Department Store. See Miss Barbara Martin, head of the women's department.

Miss Jeanne Maskaitis has left for New York, where she will become one of the famous Conover models. Conover models are noted for their height and slenderness.

Opening of Local Store

Domenic Mauro, formerly of Cash and Carry, has purchased and is opening the Mauro Delicatessen Shoppe. Good luck in the future.

The leading role in the new play, "The Handsome Broken-Down Mare," has been given to Miss Ruth Ann McNerney, a former Southington girl. Many residents will remember her for her fine performance in "Moonlight for Herbert," given by the Class of 1946 of Lewis High School.

Supervisor of Nurses Appointed

Miss Vivian Miller, graduate of Lewis High, Class of 1946, has been appointed Supervisor of Nurses at Bradley Memorial Hospital. Miss Miller is a graduate of St. Mary's Hospital, and has been noted for her ability to make illness a pleasure.

Typist Wins National Honors

It has been announced by the chairman of the National Typing Contest, that Miss Irene Mongillo has won the national honors in competition with 450 expert typists. Congratulations!

Demonstration Today

Nicholas Mongillo will give a demonstration on keeping your cars in condition. This is a very familiar topic for him, because of his knowledge of cars.

Carmen Monte is head janitor at Vassar College. Remember you are only janitor.

Rome, Italy.

Miss Ethel Moore is expected to leave Rome tomorrow for home, after completing a concert tour throughout Europe. Miss Moore is well-known for her violin playing.

William Nardi is owner of the Nardi Repair Shop. For some strange reason, shoes of the High School girls wend their way towards his store quite often.

Robert Noble, the famous cartoonist, is now residing in Hollywood after an error, when his picture appeared in his cartoon strip by mistake.

L.H.S. CHRONICLE

Roselyn Perillo, graduate of Lewis High, has just accepted a position as advertising manager of the "Build-Up" Shoe Business.

While strolling through Metropolitan Art Museum, we came across a painting by Miss Arline Phelan, former student at Lewis High. We knew she would succeed from the talented work she did in high school.

In the four-day bicycle race, we have been informed that Robert Reisch was the winner. He says that it is because of his many trips from his home to the A & P.

Ralph Riccio is the Treasurer of the United States. Now be sure to keep your accounts straight, or shall we have to send for Mr. Stowe to you for an assistant.

Vito Riccio is the President of the Riccio Men's Shops, in all the leading cities. The nearest one is located at 14 Center Street, Southington.

Rabbits for sale — Schabel's Rabbit Farm, South End, Conn. Rabbits are raised scientifically.

Robert Snow is residing in Hollywood as a great and talented actor. Do you recall his first picture, "L'Aimant Timid"?

Michael Tomasiewicz was always cutting up in school, and so has become a surgeon at Bradley Memorial Hospital, so that he can do it all the time.

Miss Ann Urillo has opened a knitting shop for men and women. It has been very successful. We have noticed that quite a few men have learned the art of knitting since your shop opened.

Great Explosion Occurs

Miss Faith Vivoroy, due to her experience in blowing up the Chemistry Lab, has decided to tackle bigger things. She has gained added experience by blowing up the Empire State Building.

Carnegie Hall to be Honored by Miss Cathy Wagenbrenner

Miss Cathy Wagenbrenner will sing tonight at Carnegie Hall. She has set many masculine hearts fluttering with her warbling.

Flash from the N.Y. Times.

Associate editor, James Wallace, an alumni of Lewis High, writes that the enclosed clipping appeared on Page 1 of his paper — "Flash, Lewis High of Southington, Conn., took the Southing-News Trophy a second time after their annual game with Plainville which proved . . .

Miss Margaret Walsh was recently seen on the magazine cover "Mado-moiselle." Her beautiful smile certainly brightens up the cover. Good luck, Marge.

Promotion Announced at Pexto

Among the many promotions announced by the Peck, Stowe, and Wilcox Company today, is that of Howard Warner being promoted to foreman.

Miss Jacqueline Wilson, manager of the Colonial Theater has announced that the theater will be closed for the next two weeks for repairs.

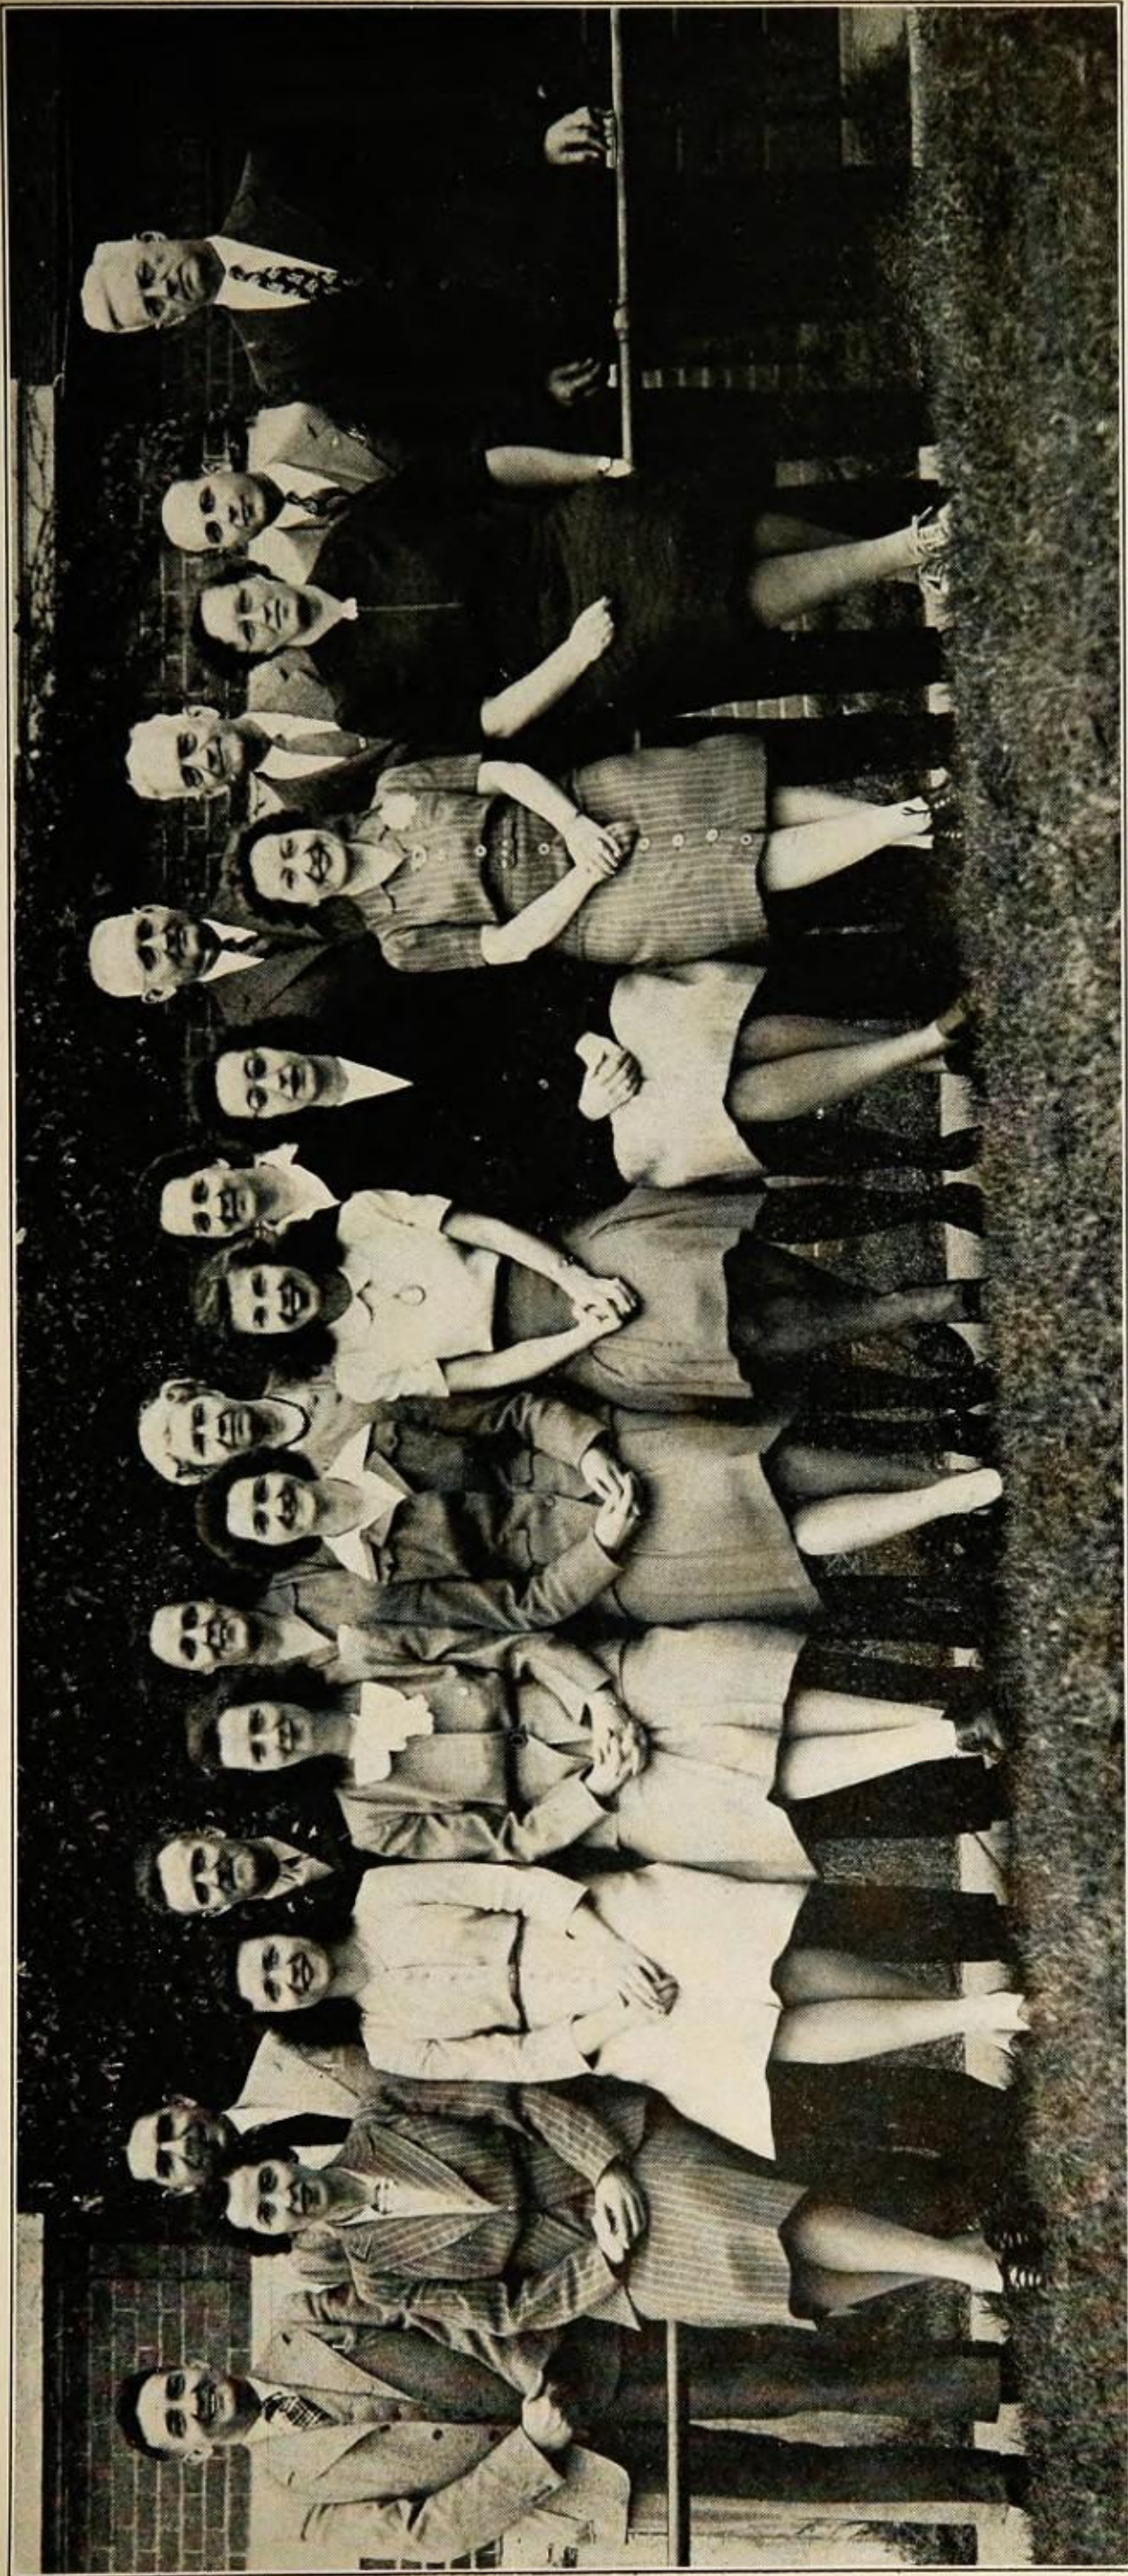

Richard Wood, prominent veterinarian, is to give a concert at the New York Music Hall. In his spare moments from nursing animals, he has spent his time tickling the piano keys.

Paris, France.

With Agnes Zakrewski's perfect 32, we find her a mannequin in one of the leading dress shops in Paris. It must be great to display the newest styles in from Paris.

THE CHALLENGE OF TOMORROW

Last night I was a care-free boy,
My play was life, my life was play;
No future called; from day to day
I laughed, and romped, and lived—a boy

But now another day I see,
A day to do with as I will;
Shall it be fraught with good or ill.
What message does it bring to me?

I catch its gleam. I breathe its air!
I hear its ringing call to me,
Its call to live, to serve, to be.
My beating heart finds voice in prayer.

In prayer that I may find the way
The way that He in service went—
A life for others freely spent
To meet the torn world's need today.

To help the other boy who gropes
Along the road I just came through,
Storm-swept with feelings strange and new
To help him realize his hopes.

Life beckons me to eager quest—
To love, to laugh, to work, to play,
To serve, to sacrifice, to pray;
He calls—and He shall have my best!
